THINKING and speaking fancifully, turning

for expression instinctively to tropes, man is accustomed to speak of Nature as a callons or even ruthless entity. Adhering to the simile, there is one phenomenon at least which may be said to entitle Nature to some credit for mercy. This is that limitation of the mind by which man is usually prevented from at once realizing the full nature and extent, of things that happen to him. We speak of events that stun, but that is when realization is over coming the mercifully dulled perceptiveness. Without leaning unduly to pessimism, it may be admitted that a very large proportion of earthly happenings are stunning, and if all were to "come home" to us promptly, the joy of life-would scarcely be a realizable asset. When, for example, there has been some great catastrophe, or when someone near and dear has been taken. away, complete consciousness of the trouble rarely bursts upon the afflicted; while it insinuates itself, man has time, as it were unconsciously, to get used to the idea, to brace himself for the culmination of horror that would otherwise be overwhelming.

Of course the thing works both ways. It is not an unmixed blessing; and there are times when our slowness to reach complete realization of the full significance of events permits_avoidable things, like war, and crime, to take place. Just as the scene possible to one glance or fixed gaza is confined within a frame whose shape may be called a horizontal oval, so the brain perceives clearly to begin with only the objects in immediate focus. If there be any virtue in the proverb "look before you leap," the injunction must be obeyed with a deliberately roving eye. We must look around to get a sense of proportion.

Sympathy with the contemporary sorrows of our neighbours suggested the e reflections, but the real inspiration of the preambulatory train of thought was a sudden though belated recognition of the change in China indicated by the last published minutes of the Shanghai Chamber of Commerce. One has been hearing of the progress of railways in North China, but the immediate effect was to turn attention to the comparative backwardness of the same development in South China; and it required something concrets, like the letter of Noel, Murray and Co. Ltd. to the Chamber, to awaken us to a realization of the extent of the real changes that have been taking place in the Empire. When has become necessary to agit to for the collection of statistics of imports moved by rail from the port to the interior, it is easier. to grasp the fact that the old ways, the slow, leisurely ways, have heard their own death-knell. To come at once to the pragmatic aspect, it is sitisfactory to no e that the Railway Commissioners expressed willingness to co-operate with the Chamber. in securing such complete figures as alone make the information useful. In the beginn ing they propose to charge nothing, but when the work increases to any extent, as it undoubtedly will do, they will expect clerical assistance as may be required. The minutes referred to will be found on page 5.

According to the Berlin correspondent of the "Frankfurter Zeitung," the Public Prosecutor, acting on an anonymous denunciation he has received, is instituting preliminary informatory proceedings against Prince Philip zu Eulenburg and three former high military officers for offences against Paragraph 175 of the Penal Code.

A curious story comes from Shipley, near Bradford. A resident posted a letter addressed to Bingley, three miles away, but Post Office authorities by some error sent it to the United States. It has now, after a month's delay, been returned, and the authorities demand 4d. from the addressee to cover the cost of the letter's the travels across the Atlantic I

At the meeting of the Council of the Suez Canal Company on November 4th, Sir William Garstin, G.C.M.G., Councillor in the Department of Tublic Works in Egypt, was, on the nomination of his Majesty's Government, unanimously elected as one of the British representatives to fill the place on the board rendered vacant by the death of the late Major-General Sir John Ardagh.

Hans Dix, an able seaman on the sailing ship Eclipse which is lying at the No. 2 dock, Hunghom, while walking up the gang way on Sunday, slipped and fell to the bettom of the dock, a distance of 35 feet. The captain and a number of members of the crew got him aboard again and it was found that he had received injuries to the head which necessitated his removal to hespital.

A Shanghai contemporary thu cracks a joke —Hongkong papers contain an amusing account of the "disorderly conduct" for which arboy who was taken to Mongkong by a member of the Shanghai Interport team of cricketers, was fined 25. The evidence showed that the offender, having purchased a police whiatle, amused himself for some considerable time by giving false alarms to the police.—Possibly he resented the fatigue occasioned to his master while --score-of-6) runs was being compiled by Edwards, the police crack, a couple of days before.

Speaking at Kentish Town last month, Mr. H. C. Lea, M.P., said that when the House of Lords was mentioned he really smacked his lips, for he haped that within three or four years there would be no House of Lords. During the past two years they had been particularly active, but for the previous ten years they did nothing. but sleep. Directly the country woke up and sent into power a democratic party with a mandate to carry out domestic legislation, then the doddering old idiots came down, clapped on their cornets, put on their badspreads-(laughter) -attended the King's Speech at the opening of Parliament, and said to each other, "Ah, Bill! here we are again—(laughter)—and we will give old C. B. fils," (Lughter.) The Peers certainly had given the Liberals fits; but he thought the time was coming when they would return the compliment.

The report of the Eastern Extension Australasia and thina Telegraph Company for the half-year ended June 30; states that the gross receipts amounted to £304,367, against £303,791 for the corresponding half-year of 1906. The working expenses, including £25,704 for maintenance of cables, absorb £155,931, against £141,246 for the corresponding period of 1906, leaving a balance of £14437. From this is deducted £712 for income-tax payable in England, £73 for donation to Chinese Hospital, and £15,043 for interest on debentures stoo 4 leaving £152,602 as the net profit for the halfyear. After adding £17,344 brought forward, there is an available balance of £149,947. Two quarterly interim dividends of 14 per cent, each, amounting to £75,000 have been paid for the half-year, leaving a balance of £74,947 to becarried forward. The general reserve fund has been debited with £120,000 as a provision on account of investment fluctuations, and this sum has been deducted from the cost of investments.

CATASTROPHE AT CANTON.

The Sheung-po issued an extra yesterday based on a telegram it had received at 6. 8) a.m., from Canton.

The story was that at 8 o'clock on Sunday night, while a cinematographic exhibition was being given in a Chinese hotel, the building collapsed, owing to the overcrowding. Three hundred people were killed, and many injured. All the hospitals were at once filled with cases, and the Numboi Magistrate turned out to supervise the rescue work in the rain.

Our own information is to the effect that the casualties were fewer. The correspondent of the Chung Ngoi San Po, our Chinese edition, writes that the building was the Tsoi Chan restaurant in Yik Hong, outside the East gate. A marriage feast had been eaten, and the cinematograph was an extra entertainment for the guests, numbering about 120 About 80 neighbours joined them to view the moving pictures. The collapse began in the rear, followed in a few seconds by a complete tum. bledown. The kerosene lamps upsetting, added fire to the general terror, and the clamorous nties as Puisne Judge, Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz: gongs of the "kaifong" people gave it poigreverting to the Police Court as first | nant expression. The firemen soon got the fire out, and then the sad task of resouing the in Jured and recovering the dead was begun. A the police of the district joined in. By ten p.m. they had dug out seven corpses and 25 injured people. It was estimated that there were still about forty people buried in the de' ris. Supt. In Taotai, personally officered the rescue brigade, and the workers were further encouraged by offers of ten dollars for each person dug out, dead or slive.

WEST RIVER PIRATES.

CANTON PROTESTANTS CENSURED.

In reply to the agitation by natives of Kuangtung, against the alleged permission granted by the Central Government to British gunboats to patrol the West River, the Waiwupu has telegraphed to Vicercy Chang Jon-chun of Canton that the Imperial Maritime Customs had arranged that matual assistance should be given in searching for pirates on West River and that this had been wrongly interpreted into giving permission to A native appeared before Mr. F. A. Hazeland | foreigners to patrol that stream. The Waiwupu, therefore, asked Viceroy. Chang Jen-chun sternly to censure the people of Kuangtung for creating rumours to incite the passions of the mob and cause trouble. It was further stated in the dispatch that the practice lately of sending telegrams to Peking to contend with the Central Government on questions of Imperial Policy was unreasonable, a lack of good manners and a reckless attempt to disturb the peace.

We understand that the following torpedoers and destroyers have been commissioned to patrol the waterways of the West River to cope with pirates :- Torpedoers Nos. 35, 36 and 38; the destroyers "Fame," "Janus," "Hart " "Taku:" the sloops "Clio" and "Cadmus."

TELEGRAMS

[BEUTER'S SERVICE.]

GERMANY AND GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, November 30th.

In the Reichstag, Prince Buelow, who was continually interrupted by general applause, expressed the thanks of Germany to the British royalties and people for the brilliant reception of the Emperor and the Empress, and dealt at length with the efforts of numerous circles in both countries, to restore the old-friendly relations. The history of the last decade showed temporary estrangement, which was nothing but a huge misunderstanding.

RUSSIA.

LONDON, November 30th.

M. Stolypin made a sensation in the Duma by a Ministerial declaration that the Tear's autogratic power was the most precious asset of the State, and was destined to bring Russia back to the paths of order.

MR. LEMIEUX IN JAPAN.

Toxyo, November 27th. Owing to a bad cold the Emperor was unable to receive Mr. Lemieux, the Canadian Minister of Labour and Special Commissioner to Japan, but the Empress received him and entertained him and Mrs. Lemieux at luncheen. The Minister of the Household also gave a luncheon party to-day under imperial instructions in honour of Mr. Lemieux at the Shiba detached palace. There will be a public dinner on NANKING, November 25. The first sod of the Nauking Electric Tramway was out at noon to-day by H.E. Tuan Fang, Vicercy of the Liangkiang prosinces, in the presence of the local officials and a large concourse of people. The ceremony passed off most successfully.

PRINCE ARISUGAWA'S ADVENTURE.

EXCITING INCIDENT AT YOROHAMA. arrived at Yokohama on November 14th, from | dolence cards, his recent tour to Kores, his Imperial Hi hness Prince Arisugawa drove to Yokohama in a motor-car which he has recently purchased from abroad. According to the Japan Times, the motor-car sped at a fleeting speed, and everything was all right until it came to Nakano-cho. cart laden with stones came along. The horse taking fright at the unfamiliar, noise, of the automobile as it dashed along at lightning speed jumped and plunged about, almost blocking the entire passage. A collision took place between the car and the cart. The latter, the horse and the motor-car were injured. But a still greater trial was in store for the Imperial motorist.

Dozens of coolies collected on the anot, hauled down his Highness unceremoniously and demanded compensation for the damage done. The attendants were perplexed to know how to behave. Presently a policeman arrived, but failed to recognise Prince Arisugawa; so instead of helping the prince out of the predicament, asked his name and profession in a most rude minuer. His Highness was at last reluctantly compelled to make himself known. The poor bobby stood paralysed with fear and perplexity, He doubtless thought himself quite non est, and so he would have been if it were fifty years ago.

But then there was no motor-car in those days. declaration of his personality might well imagined. A telegram to the police, arrival of the chief of the police, bowings and apologies, dispatch of carriages, bewilderment of the crowds and confusion of the cooling and the policeman But his Highness instead of showing signs of displeasure at the rudeness of the coolies and the constable, laughed at the whole matter, remarking to the chief of the police not to concern himself about it. He good-humouredly observed that the fault was on both sides. About 40 miuntes later the car was repaired. and his Highness departed in the brightest spirits possible, as if nothing had occurred to interrupt his pleasure.

EXPORT OF RICE FROM CHINA.

A Hankow message states that Vicercy Chow of Liangkiang is consulting with Japanes merchants in Hankow in regard to the method of shipping 300,000 koku of rice the export of which from Liangkiang to Japan has been agreed to by the Chinese Government, on the application of the Japanese Government. The leading Chinese merchants of Hankow have addressed a petition to the Vicercy protesting against this shipment. The memoriatists point out that the rice harvest in Liangkiang this year has been successful. but the rice market has not been restored to the normal state. large shipment—such as is proposed -is made to Japan, the market will rise again. to the great distress of the poorer classes. The memorialists further contend that when once an exception is made to the national law. and the export of the cereal allowed, all the other Powers will make similar demand. His Excellency should represent these facts to the Peking Government, and induce the authorities to withdraw the permission granted for the export of rice.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. MITCHELL TAYLOR.

Few more impressive funerals have taken place in Hongkong than the burial of Mrs. Mitchell-Taylor yesterday morning in the Protestant Cemetery at Happy Valley. The coffin, which was draped with the Union Jack and covered with the numerous floral tributes of respect sent by sympathising friends, was borne from Government House at 8 a.m. to the Cemetery gates on a gun carriage, drawn twelve sergeants of the garrison and escorted by a small detachment of soldiers. At the Monument the cortege was joined by a large number of civilians and military and naval officers in uniform; to the accompaniment of funeral marches, played with most impressive effect by the Band of the Middleser Regiment, the sad procession s'owly wended its way to the cometery. If music be " a kind of inarticulate. unfathomable speech which leads us to the edge of the infinite and lets us for moments gaze into that," no music better answers to that beautiful description than the subdued strains of the solemn funeral murch with the beating of muffled drums, and the dull, measured tramp of many feet. The progress of the mournful procession from the Monument, through lines of Indian and Chinese police, to the cemetery, was most impressive in its solemnity. Captain P. H. Mitchell-Taylor, the bereaved husband, dressed in the nuiform of regiment, walked immediately behind the coffin with Mr. A. J. Brackenbu y, the deceased lady's brother .- Bohind them followed His Excellency the Governor and Lady Lugard; then Colonel Darling, R.E. (the Officer in temporary command of the Troops), Commodore Stokes, R.N., and the Hon. Mr. F. H. May, C.M.G., (Colonial Secretary) In the rear followed the members of the Executive and Legislative Councils, the Foreign Consuls, and a large number of Government officials and leading residents, including saveral prominent members of the Chinese community.

At the cemetery gates the coma was trausferred to the shoulders of men of the Middlesex Regiment and the Royal Engineers, headed by Captain W. Armstrong, H.K.V., honorary A.D U. to the Governor, and Captain | gle, R.E., serving temporarily as A.D.C., and was met by the Bishop of Victoria, the Rev. F. T. Johnson (the Cathedral Chaplain), and the Rev-G. Searle (Chaplain to the Forces), who preceded the selemn procession to the graveside, situated but a short distance up the main pathway. The full office of the Church was read, each clergyman taking part, the Bishop committing the body to the grave and pronouncing the Benediction which terminated the service. In the caurse of the service the hymn

Days and moments quickly flying Blend the living with the dead was impressively sung by a military choir with band accompaniment.

Several ladies were present including Mrs May, Mrs. Volpicelli, Mrs. Basil Taylor, Mrs. Stokes, Mrs. Atkinson, and Mrs. Masters; and the entire guthering, representative, as it was, of all creeds and sections of the community. bore silent testimony to the deep and widespread sympathy which the unexpected news of the great grief which has fallen on the Governor's household has evoked.

The progress made with the construction and equipment of the Shanghai to Nanking Railway necessitated the emission in January last of a further instalment of the loan, and £350,000 Imperial Chinese Government bonds were issued by the corporation on behalf of the Government, making the total amount issued £2,900,000 out of the £3,250,000 provided for in the loan agreement. Instead of is ning further bonds, the Chinese Government proposes to provide from funds at its disposal the capital to complete the railway, which it is expected will be finished by the middle of 19.8. This will constitute a very important development of the Yangtee Valley railway system. Negotiations are also pending for the cancellation of the Nanpiao coal concession, the administration of the Imperial railways of North China having refused to proceed with the development of the field in joint account with the corporation.

BOXING.

Another boxing exhibition has been arranged by Mr. "Billy" Bellew to take place in the City Hall on Saturday night. The programme includes four interesting events, and if it is carried through as well as the previous contests which took place in the theatre there should be a full house. The main event of the evening is a twenty round bout between "Billy" Bellew and Roberts of the Navalyard. "Polly" Perkins of the Middlesex Regiment is matched against Wilks of the Navalyard, while Chiffiths of the A.O.C. has accepted the challenge thrown out by "Kid" Marriott, and as this is to be a "equare go" a good fight should result. Another interesting bout should be witnessed between Coyne of the Navalyard and Frith of the Royal Engineers as both men are skillful

AN INTERESTING CAREER

After an illness lasting but a few weeks, but which owing to its maligment observercancer of the tongue-developed rapidly during the past fortuight-there passed away at the Yokohama General Hospital on November 16th. in the person of Mr. Arthur William Quinton one who for nearly a quarter of a century has been identified with journalism in Japan, the larger portion of the time being spent in Yoko.

Mr. Quinton, who was fifty seven years of age, says the Japan Herald, was born at Needham Market a quiet country town of Suffolk, where his family had been resident for several centuries. When Mr. Quinton was quite a lad his father migrated to London, where he attained considerable fame as a journalist and writer. The son received an excellent education with a view to entering the Indian Civil Service and passed head of the list, but some disaffaction of the lungs caused his rejection by the doctors. As a coincidence, showing how kindly the hand of Fate deals with some men, the man who came second to Mr. Quinton finished his cursor as a judge of the High Court of Calcutte, a d a year or so ago the old competitors had the sitisfaction of meeting in Yokohama, the judge having retired into private life, while Mr. Quinton was then plodding away as an active journalist. Being unable to enter the service of the Crown, Mr. Quinton turned his thoughts in other directions, and for several years was employed in the head office of the National Provincial Bank in London, later proceeding on to Shanghai where he obtained a post in the firm of Hall and Heltz as French and German corresponding clerk. When this engagement ended Mr. Quinton started for England, but during this brief stay at Hongkong there occurred an incident which served to change the current of his future life, which was henceforth destined to be spent in the Far East. At the tim sof Mr. Quinton's arrival at Hongkong some trouble had occurred in the jail there, but owing to the secrecy maintained by the authorities the public were ignorant as to what was actually transpiring. Mr. Marray Bain, then Editor of the China Mail, became acquaint. ed with Mr. Quinton, who on his anggestion obtained a post ion in the prison as turnkey. After becoming thoroughly acquainted with the trouble. Mr. Quinton resigned him post and contributed to the China Mail a series of articles which created somewhat of a furore in the colony, and which resulted in the introduction of the much-needed reforms. As is often the case with journalists who undertake such work in the public interest, Mr. Quinton made enemies, the then Governor, Sir-John Pope Hounessy, being particularly in-

Shortly after this Mr. Quinton was sent to represent the China Mail with the Red River Expedition of Tonquin, and later, when the health of Mr. A. R. Colquhoup, the Times correspondent, broke down, Mr. Quinton took his place as the representative of the London journal. Here again Mr. Quinton's vigorous writing brought him into trouble with officialdom. His severe criticion of the war and of French colonial administration aroused considerable feeling in Haiphong, and served to breate troubles between the critic and M. Harmand, who afterwards became French Minister in Tokyo. In fact, so strong a feeling was ar used that Mr. Quinton sent his seconds to M. Harmand, but fortunitely the duel did not take place. After the expedition Mr. Quinton joined the staff of the China Mail, but later came to Japan. more than two decades ago, to join the staff of the Japan Gazette. Mr. Quinton, we believe, was at one time or another connected with every paper in Yokohama, and in 1816 succeeded Mr. . F. Pion as manager of the Japan Herold. From the Herald Mr. Quinton transferred his services to the Japan Mail, in whose office he has been engaged during the last few years as accountant, Mr. Quinton, we believe, established the Kobe Herald, and also founded a weekly

Though a man of quiet disposition, he was well-read and was an interesting conversationalist, while in good music he revelled The possessor of an excellent tenor voice, Mr. Quinton during his residence in Hongkong was a member of the Cathedral choir, and delighted to recount his achievements as a soloist at that time. In Yokohama Mr. Quinton was always willing to place his talents at the service of the community. At one time he took an active part in the Literary Society, his contributions including lectures on the works of Tennyson, and reminiscences of the Red River Expedition. while during the last two sessions he was responsible for two excellent musical eveningsone on the works of Wallace and the other on

The funeral took place at the Yokohama General Cemetery on Monday afternoon, the cortege proceeding direct from the Hospital to the graviside. Immediately following the hearse as chief mourners were Messrs A. Ballamy Brown and Robert Hay, of the Japan Mail while following them were Mesers. S. H. Somerton (of the Japan (Jazette), A. M. Kuapp (Japan Advertiser), and A. W. Sherriff (Japan Herald). There were also present many old friends of the decessed, the funeral service being conducted by the Rev. E S. Booth.

GERMAN PROGRESS AT HONGKONG.

The "Rhenish Westphalian Gazette" of Nov. 4th publishes some remarkable statistics showing bow German trade is extending in all directions in the Fast East.

This is stated to be particularly the case in Hongkong, where 170 leading commercial positions are held by Germans. Five out of the ten directors of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, including the presiding director, are Germans, and thirty German firms have formed a cooperative alliance: "The business done by these firms exceeds that done by all the British firms in PARIS. [FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.] October 25th.

M. LE PRESIDENT. It is no doubt because M. Fallières is one t the most modest Presidents France has ever had, that so little is known up to the present about his private life. Hardly unything concerning the latter has leaked out since he succeeded M. Loubet as the First Citizen of France. Yet, when the late M. Sadi Carnot was President of the Republic, as well as in the days when the late M. Félix Faure, and his successor, the retired M. Loubet, presided over the destinies of France, we were continually kept in touch with them, in other words, we were frequently informed through the Press of little details which interest the public when such details relate to the head of the State. In the case of M. Armand Fallières we are kept in the dark about his private life, though the latter is known to be replete with interest. The reason for this is attributed to the fact that M. Fallières prefers to be left entirely alone, and free from all publicity. Unfortunately a person in his position cannot well do as he likes; this is why from time to time a few details find their way in print, and which are read with the keenest interest by one and all. It will be seen from the following secrets which have just been revealed that private life of M. Fallières is well worth relating for like most men who have reached his time of life, the President has many of these personal habits which may accurately be described as whims. For instance, we have just been fold, for the first time since M. Fallières took in hand the reins of the Car of State, that he never go s to bed without taking a last de poule, that is, but milk with the yolk of an egg kenten up in it, which his daughter, Mdlle. years this tait de voule has been handed to the President in the same bowl, a bowl of faience or porcelain, on which the name of

Its, composition never changes, and he has taken this somme as soon as he opens his eyes for so many years, that the head of the State would not know how to get out of bed if he had not first had his mixture of garlic and brown bread. It might be supposed that at his meals M. Follières would show a preference for the wine of his own vines, the celebrated Loupillon. Far from it; he only drinks petit Bourgogne. All the domestics at the Elyrée are given Lonpillon a privilege for which they are said to be none too grateful. Having arrived at an ago when one need not trouble greatly about the vagaries of fashion, explains why M. Fallières has not changed his tailor for the past ten years. Nor has he changed the cut of his clothes. His coat and frockcoat are invariably modelled on the same lines, with no modification or concession to the ruling fashion.

French submarines is manufactured in Germany has created a dreadful sensation among all classer; public anger is all the greater as it is asserted that M. Bietry's statements are incontrovertible. This has placed M. Thomson, the Minister of Marine, in a very awkward position. All that he can do, is to confirm the fact. No other explanation seems possible. M. Bietry who has just returned from a tour in Germany, declares that in a certain factory he examined a number of motors intended for the Naval authorities at Toulon. All the component parts of hese motors had just previously been stamped by a C mmission of Inspectors from Toulon. On making further inquiry he ascertained that the motors were designed by German engineers. The Department of Marine, having approved the plane, placed the contracts-in Germany This scandal is likely to give rise to considerable treadle, while M. Thempson, the Minist of Marine, who has done so much to improve the havy of his country, will in all probability, be called upon to resign. Patriotism demands , say Frenchmen.

QUE LE-DIABOLO! most as much by grown ups as by children. At all seaside places in France this summer, diabolo has proved the king of games. Tennis, golf, and croquet are being neglected more and whether time would by allowed for the more for the novel pastime, and even those who do not play are not above pretending that they do, and to this end they carry about with them the inevitable bobbin and the two sticks and string: A day or two ago a diabola competition was organised at Dieppe, and over a hundred players of both sexes entered. A thousand spectators watched the players, and of the three categories into which the competitors were divided, that for persons over twelve years of age was the most numerous. Though diabolo is a graceful, easy-looking game, it is not so easy as it looks; though it must be cou-Fallières herself prepares. For twenty fessed little boys and girls in Paris fied no. difficulty in spinning the peculiar bobbin on the string and throwing it high in the air, only to be caught again and kept revolving on its eternal course. It certainly doesn't seem a bit difficult. But you just try if, and you will see how soon you were mistaken. It is no easy matter to maintain the equilibrium of the top. It will persist in wobbling and when you have mastered this difficulty, and have learned how to keep the bubble revolving steadily, you have still to find out how to throw it into the air, catch it again on the string, and keep it spinning. That wants patience, too. For at the first attempt it is ten to one that the bubbin, instead of mounting in the air, gets tied up in the string, and refuses to rise. Or it rises, but does not leave the string, and without warning flies back and hits the it experienced player on the nose, or the mouth or the eye. These are the risks of the game, and must be reckoned with. When you have become really good player, you can spin the top with ridiculous case, and send it flying into the air with facility.

THE FINANCIAL ORISIS IN AMERICA

The Times Correspondent writes from Chicago, Cct. 23:-When I left New York on Monday the confidence of financial circles had apparently been restored. Information here from inside sources at 1 o'clock indicates that the present situation is well in hand, and prominent conservative bankers and members of the Clearing house in New York are telegraphing to bankers here to this effect. One says :- I like the situation. liquidate, and sound business restored." Mr. John Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Eavings Bank. State or the responsibilities of his high office which has deposits of nearly £20,000,000, until the morning. The President, however, discussing the situation with me at noon, said that Chicago banks were at the present time not affected. There was no lack of cash for legitimate purposes. There was no promotion of trusts by trusts here or in the West generally. Chicago banking business was mainly confined to money lent on grain. provisions, or substantial collateral securities. Hence Mr. Mitchell apprehends no trouble except that, New York being the financial centre of the country, such a disturbance makes other banking centres watchful. This appears to be the situation here at the moment.

The Westinghouse Machine Company and the Nernst Lamp Company, manufacturing Companies, are in an absolutely solvent condition. The condition of the Security Investment Company in no way affects the Union Switch and Signal Company or the Westinghouse Air Brake Company. There is general belief that the action of Clearing-house committee is wise and that the effect will be beneficial throughout the country. What may develop to-morrow-and where there is so much manipulation unexpected developments are always possible—I do not know, but at the moment the opinion of the entire West is that the New York and Pittsburg troubles are largely local and will be readily brought under control by the great conservative banking interests of the East, aided by the prompt assistance of Mr. Cortelyou. An eminent New York financier has just answered an important offer of assistance as follows;-

"It is not necessary; the situation is well in hand." Investment stock buying is reported atrong throughout the West, and orders are heavy here. In the meantime there is assembled in Chicago a large and influential kody of men quietly discussing the control of trusts and attempting to find some common ground by which the Government can escape owning the railways and great public service undertakings and at the same time regulate them. The first of these conferences, in 1899, was supposed to have inaugurated efforts to control and compel obedience to the low. Mr. Seth Low, President Murray Butler, President Gompers, Mr. Albert Shaw, Professor Jenke, Professor Taussig, and the jurists engaged in trying trust cases, eminent lawyers representing both sides, together present an array of experts difficult to bring together from all parts of the union for any purpose but this most absorbing of all issues. The discussion started yesterday, and the conclusions will be of unusual interest.

THE CHINA ASSOCIATION.

DR. MORRISON ON CHINESE REFORMS. The annual dinner of the China Association was held on 5th November, at the Whitehali Rooms, London. Mr. R. S. Gundry, C.B. presided, and among those present were Admiral Fir Cyprian Bridge, the Hon. Sir Eric Barrington, Mr. W. Langley, C.B., Sir Cecil C. Smith, Mr. C. P. Lucas, Major-General Villiers Hatton, Dr. G. E. Morrison, Sir A. Rücker, -ir F. Clarke, Mr G. Stewart, Sir T. Jackson, Mr C. Lewis, Sir H. Tuson, Sir C. Dudgeon, Mr. R. L Antrobus, C.B., Mr. R. H. Boyce, C.B., Sir H. T nner, Mr. H. A. Gwynne, Mt W. Keswick, M.P., Sir G. Armstrong, Sir A Dent, Sir M. C. Turner, Vice-Admiral Sir G T. Boyes Mr. D. C. Rutherford, Sir H. S. Mr. G. V. Fiddes, C.B. and Mr. C. Grenville Alabester, secretary:

The Chairman, in proposing the toast

"The China A-s cistion," said the changes i China since the early days of the association had been amazing. They could not but water with keen anxiety the travail which was stil going on. It was less than ton years ago since they saw a promising reform movement in China end in a violent readition. There was now a revival movement, endowed apparently with sufficient vi our to defy the prospect of Wherever you go, you see diabolo played al. defeat. But the edict abolishing the distinctions tetween Manchus and Chinese was an i deniesion that there was in the present unrest an anti-Manchu and, therefore, an anti-dynastic element. The ornoial question now was proposed changes to operate. They could not but sympathize with the aspiration of great empire to place itself on the level to which its traditions, resources, and civilize ion entitled it. (Cheers.) If at times they seems to be impatient, it was not because the rulers of China declined to pour new wine into old bottles, but because practical reforms seemed to be neglected in favour of bureaucratic metamorphoses and official transitions. What they wanted in China was good law and good finance. If salvation was to be found in edicis. China would be a very wonderful lace. (Laughter.) In view of Sir Robert Hart's approaching retirement, it could not but be matter of concern to every one interested in British tr. de in China that, in in the selection of his successor, regard should he had less to status in the Customs service than to personal capacity, and to the respect in which the candidate was held by the foreign legations at Peking. He was glad to be able to announce that, in regard to the railway from Tientein to the Yangteze, and that which was projected from Scochow to Haugelow and ringpo, an agreement had been practically reached (cheers), al hough variations had had to be made in the original concersion to meet the wishes of the Chinese.

The test having been honoured, Sir C. 1 udgeon, in proposing the toatt of "Our Gueste," coupled with the name of Sir Cyprian Bridge, referred to the presence in their midst of the representatives of the Foreign and Colonial Offices, for whose ready and sympathetic reception of their representatives they desired to make acknowledgment. He repretted that his friend Mr. Chirol was not able t be present. They welcomed Mr. Chirol's long-continued and long-sustained work in endeavouring to interest the British public in the aspects of the Far Eastern question. (Cheers.) Among other representatives of the Press there to-night was one whom they welcomed most heartily, Dr. Morrison. (Cheers. Since he had made a meteoric appearance in that hall, primed red-hot, no doubt, with knowledge of the present situation, he hoped they would persuade him to give some general views on the present confused state of things.

We who knew how high were the administrative ideals, both in this country and in America, who remembered how unscathed we emerged from those amazing inquiries into the expenditure in connexion with | sp some of our recent wars, naturally condemned administrative methods in China that were not | t up to our standard. It was natural that we, a who were the most superior of all God's people (laughter), whose mission it was to pry into the internal affairs of other less favoured countries, should condemn procedure in China that would never be tolerated here. It was natural, for example, that the system of the purchase of rank in China, still so common in that empire, should be condemned by those nondescript capitalists of alien origin whose entry into their ranks was adding so greatly to the dignity and prestige of our hereditary aristocracy. (Laughtor.) Let them think for a moment how unjust they often were. England for the English and exclusion of foreign manufactures; Australia for the Australians; Canada for the Canadians

-these were loyal, landable, and patriotic aspirations. But China for the Chinese, China to build her own railways, China to develop her own mines. China to take an interest in the administration of her own maritime Customs-

these were manifestations of an anti-foreign and reactionary spirit! This point of view could not be too severely reprobated. There was much to blame in China, but there was far more to praise, and the anhstantial progress. that was being made in many directions that went for greater nati nal efficiency was, he thought, a point that could not be disputed. The development of the national spirit, or the awakening of a couse onsness of nationality; the spread of Western education; the growth in power of the native Press; the stimulation of military ardour and growth in efficiency and economy in the Chinese army; the attempt, imperfect as it naturally was, to bring reforms into many departments of the administration, were all features of modern China full of promire for the future. No feature of modern China was more remarkable than the growth of the native Press. Every city of any importance now had its own newspaper; there were, he believed, more than 200 newspapers in China, and the courage and out spokenness they displyed was worthy of all praise. Their leaders showed a constant increase in political knowledge and insight. They published the Reuter telegrams and other messages from the European agencies, so that thousands and tens of thousands of Chinese could now read every day of the progress and reforms of Europe, of piracy in the Black Sea, of mutiny and rots in the vine districts in France, riots and incendiarism in Antwery, strike riots in Italy, racial conflets in Austria, revolution and bombs in Russic, or unmentionable barbarities in high circles in Berlin (Laughter.) To come neares home, they read of riots and bloodshed in Belfa-t, and of the ever increasing difficulty, in restoring order and tranquillity in Ireland. Many of these native papers also published political cartoons, whose ingenuity and invention compared not unfavourably with those political cartoons which had done service at English selections. (Laughter.) A healthy public spirit was being created by these papers, and at least noteworthy was the unanimity with which they all supported the Chinese Government in its attempt to deal with the opium evil. It was as yet too early to degmatize, but he ventured to express the opinion that what had already been done in endeavouring to give effect to the Imperial decree and extending throughout the empire the inti-opium movement was both hopeful and encouraging. (Cheers) Encourging, too, was ate od, fulfilled, and more than fulfilled, the exthe spread of Western education. Schools and colleges were being multiplied all over the empire, and the spread of English in China was quite extraordinary. Thousands and thousands of men were learning English, and correct English, net "pigeon" English. Remarkable, tor, was the large number of students who were new geing to foreign Universities, in Europe and America. There were 420 Chinese students at the great colleges in America, and the traveller in China constantly met with obscure Chinese efficials and merchants who told with pride of the success of their sons at Yale or Harvard. (Cheers.) The Governor of Makden province had 19 mumbers of his family at foreign Universities, and that example might easily be multiplied. It was because of this movement slong Western lines, this attempt of the Chinese to remove that ignorance which been the source of all her conflicts with the West, that many of them must ask the question whether it was wise and politic f us still to keep the sore ranking in North Chine, still to retain on Chinese sail in the north the English and the Indian regiments as a perpetual r minder of the sin which China committed seven years ago, but which she claimed she had made a sincere effort to explate.

America long since withdrew her troops from Tientein, and sustained no diminution in her prestige thereby. Those who lived among the Chinese were reluctant to leave them, and the more they saw or them the mure they admired their sterling qualities, and the more charitably they regarded their national idiosyncrasies. Sporadio disturbances might occur in that empire, but nothing could now stay the progress of the people. That progress within the last five, years was one of the most surprising and agreeable phenomena of recent history, and by none, he was sure, would that progress be re-

Association. (Cheers.) The toast of "The Chairman" followed.

TWENTY THOUSAND TONS.

THE BATTLESHIPS OF THE FUTURE. . A recent number of the ' Pall Mall Gazette may be the case, as the tendency of in the Navies and the Mercantile Marines brand-new Navy to create, and with the best intentions no modern State can order battle ships by the dozen; as even the "Dreadnought' £100 sterling per ton, the Russian battleships would foot up to 24 millions apiece. What the world has been doing and spending in the matter of its war Navies has recently been computed for us by "Nauticus," the Germanrival of "Brassey." The first lot of figures comprise the battleships of over 10,000 lons. launched since 1883, and cruisers of over 5.000 tons, up till April 1, 1907. The second lot of figures is a forecast of the situation on April APRIL 1, 1907.

All this, however, is a history of past effort; of ships built and millions expended, excepting the forecast of the situation in 1911. As far as this is concerned programmes may be, and probably are, forenhadowed, but although this dramatic; so completely did her construction revolutionise all the preconcedived ideas of the medern latilethip. Till she ceme, construction of the biggest versels had got into a groove, and four big guns of the largest calibre. mounted in burbettes at bow and stern, accompanied by a secondary armament of smaller guns carried on the broadside, had become the type accepted by all. Three years before the "Dreadnought" was launched the eminent Italian constructor, Colonel Cuniverti, had foreslad owed her arrival in an article entitled "An Ideal British Battleship," published in Jane's Fighting ! hips." The general idea was that a big ship, bigger than all existing types, of very high speed, armed with the most p werful guns only, and with an armoured protection superior to anything else affoat, was a necessity for Great Britain if she was to retain the command of the seas. Whether Colonel Cuniberti's article influenced the powers that be, they alone know; but in the shortest possible space of time the "Lireadnought" was designed built, and commissioned, and has, it is underpeciations of those responsible. There was, on the part of the Great Maritime Powers, a bull in their shipbuilding programmes : Was this new departure, so significant in all its potentialities, to prove a success, or was the old groove the better one to pursue? There seems to be no doubt in the mind of any of the Admiralties to-day: the ship of 20,000 tons or over her, in our modern slang, "come to slay." England which made the experiment reaps the benefit in a priceless experience which is, of course, being applied in the construction of further great vessels, destined in due sesson to replace those battleships of the first importance which now form the pride of our floet. The "Bellero; bon," "Téméraire," & "Superb, " which are now building, are to be 18,600 tons, or 700 tons larger than the "Dreadwought," and there are "projected" three other ships, the displacement of which will be about 20,000 tons. and which will possibly be armed with a new weapon, the 13.5 in. gun. Ordnance, of which the biggest type has been stationary for a number of years at 12 in. calibre, now shows a tendency to creep up the scale, as if to fit itself for the honour of being transported about the world in a vessel of 20,000 tons. The "Lord Nelson" and "Agamemnon," now completing, are but 16,600 tons, and are armed with four 12 in, and ten 9.2 in, guns. It will be interesting in future years to look back and see whether these were the final examples of the four big gun" type, of which the "King Edward VII." class of eight ships forms at present our most modern and powerful fleet.

In noticing the biggest ships, mention must be made of the armoured cruisers "Invincible' and her three sisters of 17,250 tone, carrying eight 12 in. guns, which, when completed, will, be larger than any battleship at present in Next in size and importance to the British Flert in the present day comes that of the U.S.A., which nation quite of recent years has embarked upon an immense building programme. Her most modern ships are the "New Jersey" class (five ships), dating 1904, 14.9.8 tons; "Louisian" (two), 1904, 16,000 "Idaho" (two), 1905, 14,465 tons; "Kansas" (four), 1905, 16,000 tons. All these 13 ships are of the four big gun type. Now. however, the "South Caroline" and "Michigan." are to be of 17,650 tour, carrying eight 12 in, guns, and the "Delaware" and another are to be of 22,075 tone, and to carry ten 12 in. gune. will be seen that the great spurt in construction guns is projected. in the U.S.A. Navy is of quite recent date, but just anterior to the arriv 1 of the 20,000-tonnes. and that the American constructors in designing and building thirteen ships had resource to four types : the lessons of homogeneity and standardisation have not yet, it would appear, been borne in upon them.

In France, six battleships, the "Danton" class have just been begun. They are of 18.400 tons each, and are to carry four 12 in, and twelve 9,4 in guns, thus departing from the new idea of "all big gun" orthodoxy; further, it is proposed that they shall be in commission in four years from the date of commencement instead of lingering on as have their sisters of the 1900 programme, of which the "Democratie" and the "Liberte" have only just completed their. "essais de recette" at Brest. France has much leeway to make up, as owing to the complete suspension of battleship building in recent years she has but five really modern ships. At the present date, active, effective, and well drilled as is the German Fleet, it possesses no battleships larger than the "Deutschland" and "Braunschweig" classes of five ships each 13,200 tons; the medium-sized battleship was the one in the immediate past which appealed to the practical German common sense, owing to the fact that it could mavigate with ease the coasts of the Fatherland, which are shallow and choked with dangerous sandhanks. But urged on by the "Flottenverein." or German Navy League, of 800,000 members, the Empire has embarked on the "Sachsen" class of four ships which are to be somewhere in the little bill" of ten millions sterling for the reconstruction of the Kiel Canal to enable them float them, but the curves are of not sufficient sweep to allow them the manœuvre. 18,800 tons, and her sister ship.

"Aki:" they are armed with four 12 in. and twelve 10 in guns; there are further projected two battleships of 20,750 tons to mount twelve 12 in. and ten 6 in. guns. The "Kashima" and "Katori," at present in commission, 10 in., and twelve 6 in. guns. Our allies are further to the front in the new competition of big ship building than any other foreign

Italy makes no move in the direction of abnormally big ships; the Italians are a practical people, who know for what purposes they propose utilise their Fleet, and with the " R gins Elona" of 12 625 tons, which has just completed her trials in a brilliantly successful manner, and her three sister ships, they rest content for the present; in the future; however, a new class of 18,000 tons carrying eight 12 in.

As has been remarked, the tendency in battleship building is always upward. Fresh developments may be expected with the introduction of the 13.5 in. gun, and it would not appear that there was the slightest chance of of the lessening of the burden of naval armsments when the "capital ship," for for which the nations have now to pay, should in nearly every case approximate to 20,000 tons - Patl Mall Carette.

> BRITISH COLUMBIA AND ORIENTALS.

A correspondent signing himself "Civil Engineer," who resided in Vencouver last winter, writes :- "At a public meeting held in Vancouver in October, 1906, to discuss this Indian immigration question, one of the city aldermon said that these Hindus, as they are called in British Columbia, though most are of other religious, should be left to wander in the streets day and night until they perished of cold and hunger, in order that their experiences might deter others from landing in British Columbia. The worthy who thus expounded the tenets of Christianity towards his fellow men had probably never known what it was to be hungry and cold or in want of any kind. At another time 90 Indians, on one of the coldest nights of last winter, which was exceptionally severe, even on the Pacific Coast. were forcibly ejected from a house in Vancouver to which they had as much right as any other citizen who had paid his rent. Acting Secretary.

The Secretary, Shanghai Chamber of Commerce. QUARANTINE.

We omit several letters relating to the quarantining of Shanghai. One addressed to the Japanese Consul, for his Government's consideration showed that on October 8th, cholera had been stamped out. He was asked to wire for removal of restrictions. These were dist continued by Japan on October 22nd.

Another letter was from the Hongkong Chamber, dated September 27th. It said -I have to ack nowledge receipt of your letter of the 6th instant protesting against the imposition of quarantine against Shenghai by the Hongkong Government on the ground that cholera is reported to be prevalent at your part.

The Committee of bis Chamber was glad to receive your letter as it supported a protest already made by the Chairman against this quarantine being imposed and have forwarded a copy of your letter to the Hongkong Government. (Signed: Edbert A. Hewett, Chairman.) On October 10th, the Shanghai secretary wrote Mr. Hewett asking for a further protest, as the disease was quite stamped out, and the Hongkong Government at once removed their restrictions.

RELATIONS OF ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

"ROOM FOR BOTH IN THE WORLD."

The Problems of World Politics" is the subject of a treatise in the current number the Internationale Wockenschrift für Hissenshaft, Kunst und Technik, by Dr. Friedrich Paulson, Professor of Philosophy at Berlin University.

The political situation at the present time is, he says, characterised by two features. The first of these is that the German and British Empires are now playing the rôles of protagonists in the theatre of European politics. It cannot be denied, he states, this results in a certain tension between them, for protagonists are, by the nature of things, to a certain extent also antagonists. The second world politics owing to the United States, and Japan having secured for themselves places in the foremost rank of Great Powers.

The great resulting problems for the future are, first, will Europe lose the position among QUARANTINE RESTRICTIONS .- Letters to and the Continents that she has held for four from the Japanese Consul and the Hongkong | centuries, and is the time approaching when Chamber are read and ordered for publication. her predominant position in the world will be LEASE OF PREMISES —It is noted that a lease | taken by a union or by the "Yellow" race of five years has been arranged for the organis d and led by Japan? Secondly, will Chamber's rooms, expiring on October 31, 1912. | the tension between England and Germany ABBITRATIONS AND SURVEYS - It is decided | remain within the limits of peaceable rivalry, that, commencing from January 1, 1908, in all or will England, like France in 1870, consider cases, as far as practicable, when the Chamber is that she cannot tolerate the rise of a rival
